To: Liquor Law Review <liquorlawreview@justice.nsw.gov.au>; to whom it may concern,

i work at [Redacted], an independent sydney based record label, management company and touring agency.

the livelihood of our business, of the artists we represent, of our peers and competitors in the live music industry and of the many stakeholders across all segments of hospitality and the late night industry is being threatened by these well meaning but ultimately ineffective and misguided lock out laws.

the laws damage the city's economy by suffocating small business, de-incentivising tourism and damaging the city's reputation domestically and on a global scale.

there must be a better way to keep both sydney's population and cultural integrity safe.

i sincerely hope this liquor law review identifies this and we can move towards a solution that doesn't punish the city for the actions of a handful of its citizens.

cheers
