Hi,

I thought i would take the time to send a quick email, i no longer live in australia, i live in spain now - the 100% reason is becasure i lot my marketing manager position when the lockouts came in a my venue was losing something like 10k in revenue every week. So i got fired. And moved to europe where there are NO laws and suprisingly NO trouble either

So i guess thankyou because now my life is awesome :)

I am too embarassed to ever live in that country again, its a joke to the outside world
