Hi there,

I have seen the nightlife in Sydney dominated over the past two years and it's incredibly upsetting. It was once such a vibrant city, built on music, culture and creativity, now it is a ghost town because of the completely unreasonable measures put in place by current government/nanny state. There was no consultation with the public before these sweeping laws were implemented -

So many people's livelihoods have been ruined and Sydney's nightlife is a global embarrassment. Mike Baird needs to front up and explain to the public why the casinos are not included in the lock out zones - it's complete hypocrisy. He's lost my vote.

Best wishes,
