Many people that I know from interstate had decided not to come to Sydney because they were afraid of being assaulted and having their holidays ruined. Since the introduction of the new consumption of alcohol laws came into effect many of these people have been to Sydney and enjoyed the nightlife without having to worry about drunken hooligans either accosting them or being assaulted by an alcohol fuelled, out of control ratbag.

Please keep these laws in place and stop people like Clover Moore from creating a situation like that that was in place prior to the new laws.
