I was a police officer for 34 years and worked in areas where alcohol violence took place. I have been retired for 16 years and reside in the  I have seen the difference the lock outs have been in the Manly Area with the decrease in violence.

The head of ER at Kings Cross has stated the decrease in admissions since these laws have taken place. You can ignore the protests of Liquor Establishments claiming loss of trade. You only have to take a walk in Kings Cross or Manly to see they are still well attended.

The current laws need to be kept in place as they will save lives and harm to people and free up hospital space.
