I don't live near Kings Cross but the daily announcements of the mindless violence which had occurred the night before in the KC precinct was enough for me to realise some responsible laws had to be brought in to cater for the irresponsible halfwitted drunken behaviour in the name of a "Sophisticated World Class City". What rot. The sympathy I have for the Emergency Staff at St Vincents, the terrible workplace conditions of Police and Para Medics is sufficient for any normal person to realise what needed to be done. Its been done so keep the laws See the difference.
