I run my own entertainment agency is Sydney and was the DJ for Matt Barrie's company and private events !

I run a record label too

I was resident DJ at Hugos and Goldfish - both are now shut down and I have no future to contribute to the musical cultural input of Sydney any more - its distressing and not right

Sydney is an international City - gambling and profit margins of building developers should not dictate the cultural heart of the city - this is for the people to control on their terms

I have seen too many good staff and DJs lose their job over these lock outs - they don't work

It's better to educate the general public in schools about binge drinking and violence

Australia does not have a culture of eating and drinking together - why not enforce a law that forces bars and clubs to feed patrons while they drink which is the case in EUROPE - It settles things down

This law is against the cultural development of individuals in Sydney - I would not have formed my band or agency if it was not for King's Cross circa 2003 - 2011 period !!
