As someone who works in the music industry I would like to express my feelings about how pivotal it is for Sydney to be relieved of these ridiculous lock out laws and give the city a chance to return to it's previous night life glory. I wish that I did have a proper statistical breakdown of the effects of this lockout on our bookings in the area I do not but I can guarantee you that the negative effect of these laws socially and economically far outweigh the positive.

Find the right way to fix the problem, don't ruin something great for millions because of a few.
