

My business and industry is going down

To whom it may concern,

I own a hostel in Sydney which has a land and environment court order banning alcohol completely due to neighbours moving next door to a long established hostel and found it was noisy.

A number of our guests work in hospitality in the lock out areas and are shocked that they are not allowed to go for a drink or dance after work and then come home and are not allowed to have a drink at home.

A lot of the hostels in Sydney are down significantly now as Sydney now has a reputation of being over regulated and rather dull.

I hope we can revive the Sydney night culture while making it safer as well.

Best Regards
