Hello

I moved to Sydney for the vibrant international city it was.

Lockout laws have ruined famous nightspots and this city's reputation with international visitors, what a joke this set of laws are.

How can this nanny state be justified by a few idiots in the Cross causing so many people to be affected.

Please change the law back, so people can live their lives as they see fit. Not to align with some governments idea of how we should be living.

I resent and detest being controlled by these ridiculous laws and I am so surprised that a Liberal state government would be the ones pushing businesses to the wall. Are they not the champions of individual responsibility and freedom?
