The safety of our streets for regular users is of prime importance. Women/young/old people need to be protected from uncaring, opportunistic drug/alcohol affected people who are unable/unwilling to control their own behaviour. Since the 'lock-out' laws have been instituted these streets I frequent are cleaner and safer to walk upon. The cost to the community and our hospital and health systems has been lessened since these wise laws were introduced. Listen to the health professionals, the community who live in the area, their relatives who have to visit the neighbourhood and NOT the profit-driven business owners and people who do not have to live in the area. Maintain a better environment and subsequently a better lifestyle for the majority by not bowing to the financial pressure. Mr Baird, would you like your innocent 17 year old son to be king-hit and die so a few profit-seeking individuals can build their personal wealth? These law enforce and maintain decent behaviour by the otherwise reckless irresponsible and self-interested.
