To: Liquor Law Review <liquorlawreview@justice.nsw.gov.au>;

Evidence has emerged to show that the lock-out laws have helped to reduce alcohol-filled violence. I expect my state and federal governments to protect an ordinary citizens like myself and not to cave-in to big business and their lobbyists who influence the governments using their money-power, spreading half-truth and using other means, both fair and foul, to influence our representatives in the parliament to get the laws changed for promoting their business interests.

Please do not let these lock-out laws be rolled-back and thereby endanger the lives of ordinary citizens like myself.

Regards,

Rakesh Mehta
