A moderation of alcohol-violence related laws as have been introduced in NSW has been shown to reduce the incidence of violence and thus save injury or death...surely a worthwhile outcome.? I live near [REDACTED] Before these laws were introduced there was an exodus from the bar after midnight of totally inebriated young folk..screaming women being dragged along buy men in similar condition. Their condition was a clear indication that the licensee was not fulfilling his/her duty. Now ! a much more orderly group at reasonable exodus times..the hoteliers ..etc would no doubt have to adjust their business accordingly... as they would for other economic change. Please DO NOT RELAX THE LAWS
