Civilisation requires arts, culture and music.

Arts, culture and music require people to have the freedom to socialise and make choices about how they do so.

Celebration is a part of every culture. It is a human right.

A culture of fear and regulation represses creativity. Repression creates idiots. Australia is becoming a cultural wasteland of idiots. No matter how sunny it is, no one is going to want to visit or live here. People will go to America to live, and to Bali or Thailand to party. Bondi beach will be like the French Riviera - over priced and boring. Property prices in Sydney will eventually plummet. Surely even the Baby Boomers will be bored when there is no theatre here, no movies made. None of the Baby Boomers grandchildren will live here and they will be lonely. It will be like Ireland and New Zealand. All of the creative, bright young minds will leave. There will be no one to visit the Baby Boomers in their rest homes.

I'm hoping some self-interest and fear will motivate law changing.
