I write in support of these laws. Residents, including myself, are entitled to an appropriate level of QUIET ENJOYMENT of their homes.

Granted, this level will not be that of a quiet suburb, none of us who live in inner city areas expect it to be so, but we are entitled to a safe and clean environment.

Before the lock out laws, the noise and filth in the past two decades had become intolerable.

The safety and amenity of the majority, the residents who pay rates, taxes and rents, should have precedence over the few hotels and bars.
