As we are located regionally and our customers are 85% restaurant orientated, I find the ban on take away liquor after 10 pm to be very detrimental to our business.

Most of our customers attend our premises in large groups, enjoy a meal and a few drinks, and then would like takeaways to go home with. We do not have any other entertainment in the area for them to go to after leaving our premises so the takeaways are for their own enjoyment at home.. I do not think a universal ban on takeaway liquor is fair... regional/country hotel businesses are totally incomparable to city premises.
