I am a 10 NSW police officer, these issues weren't around when I went out partying, we went out earlier and came home earlier before getting into trouble. People don't know how to behave anymore, people are more selfish and arrogant. Human decency has left mankind.

You need to place the lockout laws and last drink laws across all pubs and clubs across the state. Make it even and fair for everyone. People will learn to go out earlier if they want to drink. Newtown's alcohol related crime has skyrocketed but if all areas had the same laws people would still go out. People will never stop going out....
