I'm writing to air my disapproval of the lock out laws.

They are an over-reaction ill-researched response to a situation. Look at all the other cities across the world no other city needs such drastic controls

It is sad to see that so many venues have closed over the last 2 years, and Sydney has become a laughing stock for it's over the top rules.

Why is the casino not included in the lock out laws? laws should be fair and equal- is money influencing policy?!

Look at other cities such as Amsterdam which have progressive policies to growing the nightlife sector responsibility. A strong nightlife develops culture, art, community as well as providing an economic boost and multiplier effects to other businesses.
