As a young uni student, i am often embarrassed when I head out at night in Sydney. Majority of international students aswell as non English speaking tourists often cant fathom the 1.30am lockout rule. Its not just the lockouts, in order to drink in the CBD you need to be a lawyer. No shots after midnight means i can no longer enjoy my favourite drink of scotch on the rocks, in order to obtain this legally i must go to the casino :(.

Please from all the youth of Sydney find a better solution than shutting down the nightlife, otherwise you can reach us in Melbourne.
