I believe that lock out laws and last drink laws should be consistent throughout the state and certainly throughout the Sydney and other metropolitan areas to prevent problem drinking starting up in other areas.

I believe that bottle sales should close at 10 PM

I believe that drive through bottle shops should be banned to sever the link between driving and drinking.

The music industry should stand on its own feet and not expect to function with alcohol available.

The opera house and other concert venues do not have shows going on after midnight so why should the hotel band music be any different.

People have adequate time to eat, drink and listen to music before midnight so they are getting a bonus by still drinking at 1:30

Business interests must not get favourable treatment ahead of community interests.

Liquor licences should be for a fixed term and renewable only if the premises are well run.

The responsible service of alcohol regulations are a joke, it is time that they were better policed.
