

Scanners killed night life more than lockouts.!

RS Robert Stopa [REDACTED]

Reply all | ▾

To: Liquor Law Review; ▾

12:30 PM

Inbox

Living in [REDACTED] and talking to many people who own clubs in inner Sydney their patrons and also to security at these venues, the main complaint to security and club owners from patrons, were about the scanners.

Many of these people were older and were not scanned for proof of age. The assumption being that they were criminals and they had to prove otherwise. This could happen many times a night as people left and re entered a venue. This was also embarrassing for patrons to reveal your personal details to security their friends and total strangers.

Robert . [REDACTED]