Hello,

I am not actually sure what you are trying to achieve with the lock outs. It's absolutely impossible for you to be an international city with the laws you have in place at the moment. It's not even just the lock outs, it's the fact door security are so rude to you any time after 6pm! WHY? Because they have to conform with NSW Governments ridiculous laws. I've ended up going home before the lockouts in the past 2 years, because I'm so bored of being treated like I'm doing something wrong.

I swear your attitude will cause many young people to move to a more free city. This isn't normal you know – go and look at any other city.

Don't get me wrong, Sydney is beautiful, but it is so unbelievably boring. It will just be an older generation here in a few years.

The old saying goes 'Treat people like criminals and they will become criminals'

With regards,

Paul
