To Whom It May Concern,

My main qualm about the liquor laws is the 10pm shut down on take away alcohol.

I do not agree with Mike Baird's suggestion that this is about impulsively buying a bottle of chardonnay after 10pm. Rather this is about taking the party home and socialising there in the safety of your own home.

Also, I often find myself working late, and feel like a glass of wine at home but can't even buy a bottle to enjoy in my own home.

Revert these draconian laws and let us socialise freely!
