I'm the current Chairman of Dalgarno Institute which is an alcohol and drug education not for profit organisation. I'm familiar with social trends and the push to normalize drug use in many sections of the community who are reluctant to speak up about bad behaviour. There is certainly a pro-drug lobby sector in the community that don't want reductions in trading hours or consumption, however I'm looking to see our country improve it's public safety record and discourage socially unacceptable behaviour. I'm not anti grog but rather anti stupid acts of mindless harm! I take my hat off to all of the honest keepers of the law who have had to put up with so much anger and violence for far too long. Keep the changes in place, the evidence proves that they are helpful.
