Hi,

My name is Tatiana whare.

I have been working at a night club for a while now, and would like to highlight why I would like lockout laws to leave.

1. The only thing it is hurting is sydney's reputation. We have been known to the world as party goers! But now nobody wants to come. I get a lot of comments saying "sydney is really boring now" from foreigners.

2. With the attacks outside of clubs and pubs, it is not the club's fault or the pub's! The security have kicked these people out for obvious intoxication reasons, it is going to happen, and is still happening. Why don't we see this?

3. A lot of people have been let off work due to clubs shutting down and it isn't fair that we all have to go through this. At the end of the day, Sydney will die soon due to the lack of the "party life".

I honestly think we need to take a step back and look at other possibilities we could do, for example - we have a breath analyzer in our club and everyone has to try it so we know the exact amount of alcohol they have consumed.

Nobody likes lockout laws. And this will become a very boring city soon if something doesn't happen about it.
