

Untitled

Stefan Williams [REDACTED]

Wed 30/03/2016 2:34 PM

To: Liquor Law Review <liquorlawreview@justice.nsw.gov.au>;

I moved to Surry Hills because of the vibrant night life on Oxford Street. The city already looks worse for wear with so many 'for rent' retail units due to e-commerce, and now the street looks like a ghost town after office hours.

I actively tell my friends who want to visit from the UK, to go to Melbourne instead because the city is a social embarrassment now lacking culture.

My girlfriend and I have lived on Oxford Street for over 5 years, and due to the change in culture are now planning to move on purely because of the damage the lockouts have created to the city I once loved.

Thanks,
Stefan

--

The information contained in this communication is intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom it is addressed and others authorized to receive it. It may contain confidential or legally privileged information. If you are not the intended recipient you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking any action in reliance on the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by responding to this email and then delete it from your system. The firm is neither liable for the proper and complete transmission of the information contained in this communication nor for any delay in its receipt.