I strongly support the lock out laws because of the significant impact on public health and safety. I would like to see them expanded to other areas to ensure uniformity and prevent the creep of late night hooliganism into other suburbs. Australia has a terrible alcohol problem, and reasonable limits to the hours at which alcohol can be sold is entirely appropriate and helpful. I would like to see my kids grow up in a society that values human life and safety over the preference of a few to get intoxicated at any time of the night.
